3. Distributed the following NETC report(s):
None
4. Sent an electronic version of the following NETC report(s) to TRIS/NTL:
None
5. Received report URLs from TRIS for the following NETC report(s):
None
6. Agreements and Memoranda-of-Understanding (MOUs):
 - a. Refer to the "Problems Encountered" Section.
 - b. For several quarters, the Department has not initiated any contractual activities for any projects requiring time extensions to complete the study, pending the transfer of the NETC Lead Agency designation to a new Lead Agency. (Refer to the "Problems Encountered" Section.) It is anticipated that the new Lead Agency will initiate contracting with the Universities for the completion of the projects.

NETC Coordination Tasks (University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth)

1. Gerald M. McCarthy, NETC Coordinator, retired, effective December 30, 2011.

The End Date for the Personal Service Agreement (PSA) with the University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth, to provide NETC Coordination services was December 31, 2011.

All the historical NETC files and records were transferred to VAOT, University of Vermont (UVM) or ConnDOT.
2. UVM is the new NETC Coordinator Agency.

The new NETC weblink is:

http://www.uvm.edu/~transctr/?Page=netc/netc_default.php

The new NETC Coordinator is Amanda Hanaway-Corrente.
3. Submitted an NETC Transition Plan to VAOT on November 22, 2011.
4. Continued efforts to facilitate the transfer of the Lead State Agency designation to VAOT.
5. Continued implementation process of recommendations contained in the Final Report for the 10-Year Review of the NETC Program.

Problems Encountered:

Significant and repeated delays on processing PSAs have occurred during the last 27 months because of new State contracting procedures and requirements. This continues to be an on-going problem.

Because of these on-going problems, the Department and the NETC Advisory Committee had requested one of the NETC member state transportation agencies or FHWA to assume the Lead State designation. In that capacity, the new Lead Agency will then assume all contractual obligations for NETC. During the spring of 2009, FHWA withdrew its offer to assume the Lead Agency designation due to manpower and work load restrictions. The NETC Advisory Committee reviewed various options for designating the Lead Agency. The Vermont Agency of Transportation (VAOT) is in the process of assuming the Lead Agency designation and has established a new Transportation Pooled Fund (TPF) project, TPF-5(222), "New England Transportation Consortium (NETC) (VI)." However, VAOT still has some legal issues that they have to resolve. Because of the uncertainty over the designation of the new NETC Lead Agency, there was a lack of uniformity, among the NETC member states, in the transfer of funds to any of the existing NETC TPF projects. FHWA-CT and the Department are currently in the process of auditing the NETC program to determine the financial status of commitments (pledges), transfers, project expenditures and project balances for each of the NETC TPF projects; once this audit has been finalized, the Department and/or FHWA will notify the NETC member states of the corrective action, if any, to be undertaken. In the meantime, several NETC member states have begun transferring funds to SPR-5(022) to satisfy financial mandates within their individual state.

The Department will continue to administer any contractual obligations for currently active Agreements. However, any new contractual activity, including Amendments to currently active Agreements, is not being processed at this time. FHWA has offered and begun the process to contract, by Purchase Order Contract, with the Universities for the completion of any project that was not completed during the contract period under a Department Agreement. It is anticipated that the new Lead Agency will initiate contracting with the Universities for any new project that was not initiated under a Department Agreement.

By directive of the Office of the Attorney General, the contracting mechanism with the University of Connecticut is Memorandum-of-Understanding (MOU). The procedure for executing MOUs is much easier than that for Agreements because most of the new State contractual requirements are not applicable to MOUs. Therefore, the Department is still initiating new NETC contractual activities, including Amendments to currently active NETC projects, with the University of Connecticut.

See previous quarterly reports.

Is Work On Schedule?

Yes - Refer to the "Problems Encountered" Section.

Significant Findings:

None

Anticipated Work for Next Quarter:

ConnDOT Tasks

1. Continue efforts to facilitate the transfer of the Lead State Agency designation to VAOT.
2. Agreements and Memoranda-of-Understanding (MOUs):

None

NETC Coordination Tasks (University of Vermont)

1. Since the new NETC Coordinator Agency is UVM, working under contract to VAOT, it is anticipated that VAOT will provide Quarterly Progress Reports on NETC Coordination activities in the future.
